Please note – job posting numbers are based on snapshot data taken on the 6th April, numbers are provisional and subject to change. Job postings are collected from online sources, it doesn't capture postings that are not advertised online, this might result in undercounting for some occupations. This data shows any active posting rather than newly listed postings. A posting is removed from the count after it has been online for 61 days. A job posting does not necessarily result in a job and some jobs will be created without a job posting.

Job posting numbers – district comparison

The below gives a district overview of total job postings for the month of March, comparing the same month in 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022. Job posting numbers in March 2022 are higher than March in previous years, with the biggest increases seen in Cheltenham and Gloucester.

Jobs by advertised salary

The below graph looks at job postings by advertised salary between January 2019 and March 2022. Please note that a significant proportion of postings don't show a salary, which are indicated by the grey line marked as 'unknown'.

The graph clearly shows that all salary bands saw a dip in the number of advertised postings during the pandemic, with a notable dip between March 2020 before picking up again from August 2020 and dropping off again in November 2020. There has however been a notable increase in the number of jobs posted in the £20-29k (orange line) salary range as well as those with salaries between £30-39k (red line), with other salaries seeing an increase but to a lesser extent.
